Agenda

FIND YOUR VOICE

Build Foundational Leadership Skills

9:00 AM

Welcome!

Members of the FDA's Leadership Development Committee

Foundations of Public Speaking

Tiffany Olson, Communication Coach

Whether speaking to colleagues and patients, leading a team meeting, or addressing a room full of people, strong communication skills matter. This highly interactive workshop will help participants build confidence, craft a clear message, and deliver it in an engaging and effective way. Through practical exercises and practice sessions, participants will put new skills to work in real time.

Learning Objectives:

- Organize and craft a clear, audience-focused message
- Apply delivery techniques that make presentations more engaging and effective
- Use practical strategies to manage nervousness and build confidence when speaking
- Practice and apply speaking skills in a supportive, interactive environment
